"Wood is a natural product and is susceptible to extremes of weather conditions, such as warping and twisting in dry spells when the timber dries too quickly, and this may cause small splits - commonly known as shakes. Such reactions are natural. These effects may be reduced with correct installation and recurring maintenance."

STORAGE SOLUTIONS

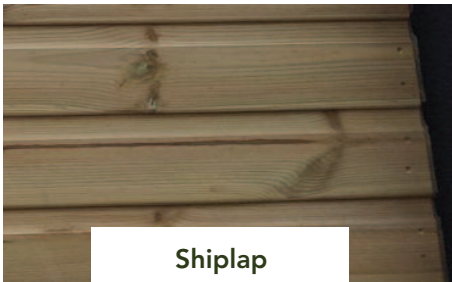

All our sheds are manufactured here in the UK and we, as designers and manufacturers appreciate that we all have different needs so want to ensure that 'your shed' is fit for purpose. We can design any shed size and any style. We have given you ideas to ensure that your shed is manufactured to your complete satisfaction. All our sheds are Pressure Treated Green to give protection against the elements. However, we do recommend that you treat your shed annually.
